Abstract

Studying the topic of political project of AK party in Turkey represents a ring of so many ones which show the charges witnessed by the Turkish politics as will as changes accompanied in some strategies of political trends in Turkey. These trends represent of Islamic direction represented in this study by Justice and Development party headed by Tayyib Erdogan. This party presents itself in certain condition which need such a trend in Turkey to be a joining ring and a balance between Islamic reality of Turkey and its secularist frontage. This has been clear through the perspectives of party's leaders which included different elites of politics in Turkey in order to form a political project prepared to be a reform project for the political arena in Turkey and also to be a starting point in its political action as being the ruling party.

The study concentrated on five major aspects and at the beginning comes the general conditions in Turkey before the birth of the party and how such conditions and changes have been an effective motive in its foundation. Therefore, the party depends on bases and aims of particular form especially its relation with Islam and state Secularism. This has facilitated the process of reaching the power by its winning the elections and the reflections of this upon secularist powers in Turkey .represented by the military. The political project of the party is the main aspect of this study being a reform program prepared by the party after forming the government and also having its effect upon party politics in Turkey for it is the first Islamic party in Turkey adopts perspectives which represent a type of continuation and balance with secularist powers in Turkey.
